RE: TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

MarbriTech have been handling our business technology needs since 2011, from management services through to the specification, installation and supply of all required equipment – including the most recent and successful implementation of our HP 3PAR enterprise server environment.

Over the past 5 years, we have been fortunate enough to enjoy significant business growth, with MarbriTech advising and assisting us on our technology related needs, ensuring the highest level of ROI and business benefit through each. Our new premises encompass a 'Zero Centre', which boast a 26 screen video wall, allowing us to monitor our vehicles, client sites and guards as and when necessary. This environment is a huge selling point for us when presenting to new corporate and government clients, with the need for it to remain stable and available 24 hours a day, throughout the year.

To date, these mainstay systems have operated faultlessly since implementation, which shows great testament to the understanding of our needs and incorporation of such in the specification and installation process. Utilising the management tools recommended by MarbriTech for these environments have helped pay dividends to this being a reality.

Based on these positive experiences, we are more than happy to recommend MarbriTech to any client wishing to install business critical systems and look forward to continuing our business growth having them as our trusted advisors.

Should anything require further clarification, please free to contact the writer hereof.

Yours Sincerely
